CHAPTER XIV.

PHILADELPHIA city a little before midsummer, 1776. The old Quaker quiet is gone. Now a strange spirit of excitement pervades it, a subtle electricity that touches all things with expectancy.

The Inns, the Black Bear and Indian

Queen and the London Coffee House, dilate with taproom visages, and crowds of townfolk loiter along the streets in the warm evenings to view the great men come to attend the most honorable congress sitting in the state-house. They have seen the Charleston packet bring the delegates from South Carolina. Every citizen who can muster a horse has ridden out to meet the delegates from Virginia, Maryland and Delaware who arrived in a body. They have seen them all, have compared them with one another.

On high street stands the great mansion of Richard Penn, one of the proprietaries. It is now thrown open for the entertainment of the visitors.

Up and down the dusty street pass and repass earnest men in dull coats and small clothes, workmen in ozenbrig and leather aprons and tradesmen in coarse cloth. They pause in knots on the pave and talk, each by his kind.

One house they pass many times, looking at it with more eager curiosity and concern. This building is even less pretentious than its fellows, but one who observes it long will have noted that those who pass in and out of its door lend it a peculiar distinction. They come in velvet instead of cloth, their sleeves droop with lace. They wear powdered hair and diamond buckles and for the most part carry dress swords.

The house is occupied as a shop, and the silver plate on the door bears the name of "James Randolph." It is the headquarters of the Virginia delegations. To Henry, chafing in his Virginia harness, how slowly the hall had rolled among the conventions! How halting went the leaders! Messengers riding posthaste brought him the news from Philadelphia.

Congress had recommended that the several colonies form distinct governments for themselves. And even to this the delegates of New York and Pennsylvania had loud objection. Henry gnashed his teeth in the convention at Williamsburg, and on May 15 a resolution was passed directing the Virginia delegates in Philadelphia to "declare the united colonies free and independent states."

A significant word! Richard Henry Lee followed in June with his resolution for independence. But alas for human failing! Many of the delegates, Dickinson, Morris, Livingston, were men of property, and the possession of property enlarges the bump of caution. They cried for delay. The older Quakers, men of peace, had set their faces and their faith against rebellion.

New York was milk and water. There had been the failure of the Canadian expedition, and, besides, the province had its exposed harbor and the Indian raids on its frontier to think of. The Pennsylvania delegation refused to vote on separation and left their seats in anger. Maryland had few grievances.

And what of New Jersey? There was Toryism, intrenched. Its royal governor, the son of the benevolent faced patriot, Benjamin Franklin, went breathing fire against the Whigs. Not till he had been shipped to Connecticut in irons, not till congress had sent three of its members to argue, to plead, to sterm, did its assembly declare for freedom.

Think not that those who hesitated were not men of honor, jealous for the welfare of their country. Not every one believed George III. another such despot as Philip II. of Spain or the bloody minded man the radicals illiberally called him. The storm was high on the horizon. And it is the part of wisdom to count well the cost of desperate ventures. Against the colonies was pitted the mistress of the seas—a king, innumerable battalions, armament, navies, money and the prestige of hereditary possession. The colonies stood alone.

There were those who, like Henry, whose clear eye saw the future as with divination, pinned faith upon Gallie county to England and looked for a sign of aid. But the months came and went without its appearance. Now the Third congress was sitting, and France was silent. Granted a defiance to Great Britain, the outcome was doubtful—how doubtful five red years of smoke and blood were to demonstrate.

As the pendulum vibrated a British fleet in the Delaware brought the war within hearing, and Lord Howe hove to off Sandy Hook with all his army. The congress was, after all, a miniature of the country. It held a Tory party who awaited some disaster to become dangerous. It held faint hearts who croaked, despondent ones who predicted ruin and brave hearts that dared a struggle they believed would be uncertain.

On such a field for twenty-five long days a determined battle was fought. It ended at last, and one evening Thomas Jefferson of Virginia betook himself to a little house back of an oblong green, where lived Dr. Franklin, and wrote the first draft of the Declaration of Independence.

There comes a time in the history of every great movement when it must go forward or die. Lethargy breeds reaction. The fierce fight for a Declaration had marked this point now. In the three days since the vote the opposition had gathered its shattered forces. There were new mutterings, and the little Virginia delegation in the shop of Mr. James Randolph on High street knew that the defiance which was to be offered on the morrow, if it were to be signed at all, must be signed quickly.

So out of a humid morning grew the afternoon of the 3d of July for Philadelphia. It came in heat, with a brazen sky. Opposite Mr. Randolph's shop on the same evening Joseph Galloway, the lawyer, walking slowly, paused and looked across the street. He was thick-set and middle aged, with a smooth, crafty face and restless eyes.

He had lacked Whig patriotism in the first congress. The Second would have none of him. And yet he had earlier led the popular party against the proprietary. Such strange overturnings the new idea of freedom was bringing about. The fierce Tory rancor which had made of this man at first "the defender of the prerogative" was to convert him later into a spy, a refugee and a sour pensioner of George III.

Now, there was the open hatred of a bitter Tory in the look Joseph Galloway cast upon the little shop. "Good day, Mordecai," he said in greeting to a rotund merchant Quaker who joined him. "I see you also looking. What think you our Virginia hot bloods will draw next in their den of iniquity?"

The Quaker frowned. "I love them not," he answered. "What saith the Scriptures? 'For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds.'"

"Gentlemen of birth and wealth, for sooth," continued Galloway angrily, "and yet prating like the veriest clouts of independence and brotherhood! Whose was the bill to separate from Great Britain? Richard Henry Lee's. And who has written the Declaration that is to be thrust beneath the delegates' noses tomorrow? Thomas Jefferson. These Virginians! Would we had never heard of Virginia before we came to this!"

"Look you"—He broke off and pointed with his stick where a coach bowed along High street. It was richly furnished and bore arms on its panels. On the cushions, exquisitely dressed in a white uniform, sat a blocky, military looking man with bushy wig and foreign mustachios. He wore a cocked hat.

"Tis M. Piarne," said the Quaker. "These French parasites with powder to peddle, Friend Joseph, would joy to see the colonies plunged into bloody strife. They would batten on our extremity, for whosoever the carcass is there the eagles be gathered together."

"French officers!" ejaculated Galloway. "Aye, or adventurers! As like to be one as another. Mayhap M. Piarne goes to see the precious envoy whose newcoming the town gapes about."

"He is to be received?"

"Tomorrow afternoon. 'Tis an open secret. Notice was sent the house this morning."

"Twas averted in the street but now that he is come from Louis XVI." "Let them jabber!" grumbled Galloway. "Little store is to be set by these fine envoys. I mind me when the Frenchman came to the congress last November. You heard of that, mayhap. There was the same excitement, a committee appointed, too, I remember. John Jay was upon it. They met the personage in a room in Carpenter's hall, and what think you they found? Why, a little old frog eater with a club-foot, who when they asked him for his authority drew his hand across his throat, and says he, 'Gentlemen, I shall take care of my head.' That was all they could get out of him. Some imbecile belike. And even then there were those who saw great signs in it. A pest on all such, say I!"

The Quaker shook his head doubtfully. "Yet there is much hope for from this present message," he said. "I heard it on good authority some months ago that a French marquis was to come hither. 'Twas said Benjamin Franklin had written of the matter from London. Mayhap this is the same."

"Bosh!" snuffed Galloway. "'Tis absurd, I say, the faith that is put in such a vain and empty hope! I do know that half the delegates have some such folly in their heads. The Declaration is to be offered for signing tomorrow, and look you, it is in the minds of some members to retard action upon it, hoping such a message from France may bolster faint hearts."

"Thou dost not think they will sign, then?"

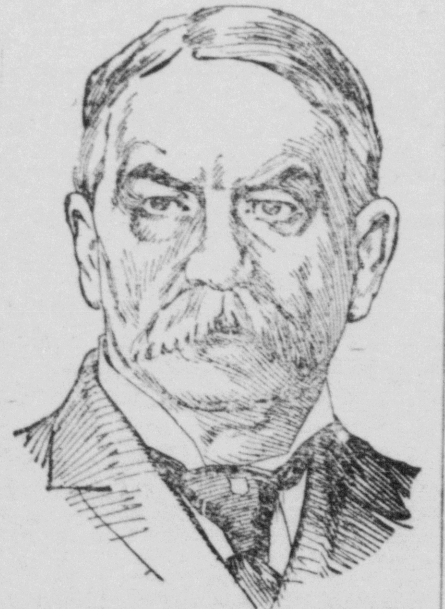

"God forbid!" rejoined Galloway fervently. "I cannot believe we are so near madness as that. And yet I would that naught had been heard of a message from France. Methinks tomorrow will be warm. Good night to you, Mordecai!"

WARE RESIGNS

Commissioner of Pensions Wants to Go Back to Kansas.

Washington, May 14.—Eugene F. Ware, commissioner of pensions, has handed his resignation to President Roosevelt, to take effect at the pleasure of the latter. The resignation has been in the hands of the president for some time, but he has urged the poet-

PENSION COMMISSIONER EUGENE F. WARE lawyer to remain at his post for a while longer, as there is no desire to select a new commissioner during the national campaign, and it is probable Mr. Ware will remain at the head of the pension office until after election. The commissioner declines to disclose his reasons for wishing to return to Kansas, but it has been evident for some time that his official berth has not been entirely to his liking. He has clashed several times with his superior, Secretary Hitchcock, who has overruled several opinions of the commissioner, and has ordered the reversal of some of his official acts.

Frank Barker Convicted.

Red Cloud, Neb., May 14.—The jury in the Barker murder case returned a verdict last night finding Frank Barker guilty of murder in the first degree and fixing the penalty at death. Barker was convicted of the murder of his brother and his brother's wife on Jan. 31 last.

JAPS GOING AHEAD

Movement of Troops in the Liao Tung Peninsula Is Advancing Rapidly.

MOVE WITH GREAT CARE

Advance Guard of the First Japanese Army Is Observing the Utmost Precaution.

Strong Fortifications Are Being Erected at Lien Chen on the Liao Yang Road.

Constantinople, May 14.—Russia is concentrating troops just beyond the Caucasus. The most reliable information fixes the present total number of troops at 125,000.

Mukden, May 14.—Pu La Tien (near Port Adams, Liao Tung peninsula) has again been occupied by the Japanese. Communication with Port Arthur is interrupted.

Liao Yang, May 14.—The advance guard of the First Japanese army has appeared six miles below Lien Chen Kuan on the road to Liao Yang. It is not making any further advance, but is erecting strong fortifications. The Japanese movements were made with the greatest care.

A persistent report is current here that a Russian squadron of cavalry succeeded in getting behind the Japanese, who were several squadrons strong, and is occupying Kuan Dian San. The unexpected appearance of the Russians caused the Japanese to immediately evacuate the town and retire toward the Yalu. The report is believed to be correct.

Prof. Karavieff, who has arrived on a train from Port Arthur, asserts that he saw near Poland station the body of a Russian soldier, one of the railroad patrol, cut into quarters. In a skirmish near Poland one of the patrol was wounded. On the Japanese approaching the soldier feigned death, and it is said a Japanese officer, passing shot him in the mouth.

Colonel Elahan, who has returned from a reconnaissance of the district near the river Taitsi, was attacked on May 9 by Chinese bandits. One Cosack and two porters were killed by the bandits, who were driven off.

EDITORS STALLED

Russo-Chink Nomenclature Too Much for London Papers.

London, May 14.—It is impossible to identify many of the Russianized Chinese names given in the Russian staff accounts of the Japanese advance in Manchuria.

General Kuroki's boldness in pushing on is commented on here as showing that he believes General Kuropatkin's forces are much weaker than they are represented.

The partial destruction of Dalny is regarded as showing that the Russians anticipate the Japanese will make a determined attempt to capture Port Arthur, while, owing to the moral effect of the fall of the stronghold would have on Russian prestige, an equally determined resistance will be made.

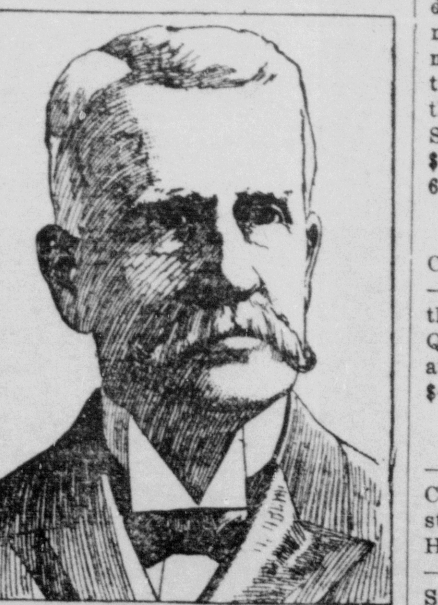

One Item of Expense.

Vancouver, B. C., May 14.—Advices received from Japan by the steamer Empress of India indicate that the bottling up of the harbor of Port Arthur has cost the Japanese government $1,241,000 for tramp steamers alone, besides enormous sums for ammunition, repairs, etc. Up to the time of the departure of the Empress of India nine tramp steamers had been used in the bottling-up process.

THE DEFENSE BEGINS

General Tyner's Side of It Will Now Be Presented.

Washington, May 14.—The prosecution in the Tyner-Barrett case has closed with the reservation of the right to call one other witness who was not at hand. The first witness for the defense was F. C. Huebner, a clerk in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department. Huebner's testimony related principally to methods of procedure in relation to bond investment companies before and after Barrett's retirement, and indicated strongly that the proceedings had always been the same.

JAMES N. TYNER.

EVIDENCE IN PROGRESS

Gillespie Murder Trial Attracts Much Attention.

Rising Sun, Ind., May 14.—The progress of the Gillespie murder trial is watched with the closest interest, the courtroom being constantly crowded with interested auditors. Ten witnesses have thus far been examined. Mrs. Gillespie, the aged mother of the victim and of two of the defendants, testified concerning the assassination of her daughter, adding nothing, however, to the original statement. Mrs. Louise Bloss, who was with Mrs. Margaret Gillespie from the night of the shooting to January, testified that none of the defendants attended the funeral or called at the Gillespie home prior to the death of Elizabeth. Elizabeth was shot on Dec. 8 and Mrs. Belle Seward, a sister of the victim, called on her mother on Dec. 22. James Gillespie, the twin brother and other defendants had not called at the Gillespie home. Mrs. Bloss was asked if any of the defendants had done anything for Mrs. Gillespie since her daughter had been killed. The defense objected to the question bearing on the relations between "Mother" Gillespie and the defendants since the shooting. The jury was then excluded from the courtroom while counsel argued at length on the competency of the evidence. Court overruled the objection of the defense and Mrs. Bloss answered the questions, telling what happened while she was with Mrs. Gillespie during December, when the only attention of any of the defendants was a single call from Mrs. Seward.

Miss Maud Matson, sister of the mayor and a close friend of the victim, visited the Gillespie home after hearing of the shooting and told of the incidents and that none of the relatives called at the home.

Mayor Charles B. Matson, who was the attorney for Mrs. Gillespie and her daughter Elizabeth, testified regarding Mrs. Gillespie dispossessing James of her farm and notifying her tenant, Jos. Henschen, to pay no more rent to James. Court ruled out the notices that had been served on James Gillespie to vacate the farm. Mayor Matson testified to the life insurance that Elizabeth carried payable to her twin brother James. On cross-examination Mayor Matson said there had been no ill-feeling between James Gillespie and himself. Joseph Henschen, tenant on the farm of Mrs. Gillespie, was expected to testify regarding what James Gillespie had said about his sister Elizabeth, but he could not remember anything positively.

Miss Annie Mullen testified to going to the Gillespie home with Miss Elizabeth Long on hearing the shooting and being so frightened at the appalling sight that they ran away and left the unconscious victim lying on the parlor floor. It developed during this testimony that Mrs. Belle Campbell, now living at Arcola, Ill., and one of the principal witnesses for the state, cannot be present on account of sickness. She was with Misses Mullen and Long immediately after the shooting and also with Mrs. Gillespie. The latter had sent the colored man, Sebastian, for Mrs. Campbell.

Dr. L. C. Cowen testified regarding the wound. Dr. Cowen produced the shot and the wad which he had taken from the victim's head prior to death.

"The Damndest Crowd I Ever Saw," Is the Way the Old Speaker Characterizes Warring Factions.

Deadlock Over Gubernatorial Nomination Creates Scenes of Confusion Worse Confounded.

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—The battle of ballots in the Illinois Republican state convention was resumed today, with the respective sides as firmly aligned as at the start. After a continuous session of over twelve hours the convention at 10:28 o'clock last night took a recess until 10 o'clock this morning without having named a candidate for governor. During the long hours the great body was in session it was in a practical deadlock and when by general consent the recess was taken, neither of the seven candidates had secured an advantage of any moment, each of them holding practically his original strength. While the tire some balloting went forward the party leaders conferred in fruitless efforts to get a compromise, but all of their efforts went for naught and there is nothing in the situation to warrant the prediction of a break today. The vote on the fourteenth ballot stood: Yates, 4824; Lowden, 4203-22; Deneen, 3819-22; Hamlin, 110; Warner, 364. The convention was at once the largest and the most turbulent held in the history of the state. The great convention hall was packed with fully 10,000 persons during the session, and at times the scenes were most turbulent. Only the good nature of Speaker Cannon, who presided, prevented him from adjourning the convention to the hall of representatives and excluding the public at several times during the day. "It's the damndest crowd I ever saw," he declared.

The organization of the convention was effected without difficulty. The Yates-Lowden combination was in complete control and the opposition decided to make no fight against the seating of the Yates and Lowden delegates, realizing that they would split when the question of nominating a governor was reached, nor was there any discussion over the platform. The four delegates-at-large to the national convention—Senators Cullom and Hopkins, Speaker Cannon and Governor Yates, were selected by acclamation.

HERESY CHARGES

Are Being Investigated by the Methodist Conference.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 14.—The Methodist general conference has resumed consideration of the revision of the rules of order. The work of formulating the official rules of order have been fraught with many clashes between the opposing parliamentary leaders on the floor of the conference who sought to secure the adoption of rules that would tend to give their particular faction an advantage in the work of legislation. The charges of heresy made by Dr. Munhall and others against the Garrett Biblical institute and the Boston School of Theology continue to occupy the attention of the members of the committee on education and to be the absorbing topic among the conference delegates. The subcommittee of five having in charge the investigation of this important matter has made a report to the full committee, but the attacks of Dr. Munhall and other supporters of heresy charges were so spirited that the committee voted not to accept the report, but to resubmit it with instructions to give matters more careful and thorough consideration.

Need of a Guard.

Denver, Col., May 14.—A petition to Governor Peabody and Mayor Wright to order out the national guard to preserve order at the election in this city next Tuesday is being circulated, and already has been signed by hundreds of citizens. The petitioners allege frauds committed at past elections and contemplated at the coming elections, refers to police participation in politics, and alleges danger of mob violence.

Horrible Death of Fire Fighter.
Houston, Tex., May 14.—Fire at Batson yesterday afternoon destroyed eighteen derricks, five drilling rigs and twenty-two tanks containing about 15,000 barrels of oil. Tom Walker of Leavenworth, Kan., mounted a ladder in an effort to cut off the flow of oil, but fell into a mass of burning oil and timber and was slowly roasted to death while the spectators looked on helpless to reach him.

GOOD LIVING

Quite often results in bad health, because what is termed "good living" is usually the gratification of the palate without reference to the nutrition of the body.

When the good liver is a business man and rises from a full meal to plunge at once into work requiring mental effort the result is almost sure to be disastrous, because digestion draws upon the same nervous forces which are employed in thought. In time the stomach becomes diseased, the processes of digestion and nutrition are imperfectly performed and there is a physical breakdown.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates the effete poisonous matter which originates in the system as a consequence of imperfect digestion. It gives sound health to the whole body.

"I wish to say to the world that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctor for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1897, I had very sick spells and grew worse, could eat but little. I commenced in September, 1897, to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is no easy task to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me.

Township Primary Election.

Notice is hereby given to the republicans of Jackson township, Jackson county, Indiana, that the republican township primary election will be held Saturday, June 18, 1904, on which date a candidate for township trustee and a candidate for township assessor will be nominated.

By order of the township committee, C. D. BILLINGS, Chairman.

IF THE democratic members of the city council do break down because of "overwork" heaped upon them by Mayor Shields in his partisan anxiety to half way ignore the republican councilmen, they should call on him to doctor them without charge.

FOR A long time the democrats over the country have been talking harmony. All of them favor harmony but the trouble is they can't agree any further than that. The convention at Indianapolis this week was a sample of their harmony when they get together.

W. H. EVERROAD, of Columbus, one of the Hearst partisans and always an enthusiastic Bryan supporter, is quoted as saying that he would take the stump against the whole bunch of Parkerites if Taggart's convention forced instructions on the delegation. Well the delegation was instructed for Parker and it now remains for Billy to make his word good.

THE Co-operative building and loan association, of Seymour, is complimented by having one of its advertisements for the series which started last month reproduced as a model building association advertisement in the May number of the American Building Association News, published at Chicago and devoted to the interests of building associations.

AN Indianapolis preacher has sued the church of which he was pastor for salary due and unpaid. While waiting for judgement he is repairing watches for a living. It is a little out of the ordinary for a minister to bring suit against a church to collect his salary, but he is probably justified. A church should be prompt in the payment of its obligations. No church can afford to repudiate its obligations.

THE WOOL MARKET.

The 1904 Wool Clip in this Locality Below the Average.

There is a limited supply of wool carried over from 1903 clip by the manufacturers and the dealers, which is selling slowly at prices not very remunerative on the investment. While western manufacturers are very well supplied with orders for their product, eastern mills are very slack on orders, many of them having closed down and others running on short time.

The clip in this and the adjoining counties for 1904 does not promise to be very large but as the states and territories west of the Mississippi are increasing their flocks every year and the consumption of wool being curtailed by the shutting down and use of substitutes on the part of eastern mills, the outcome for this clip is difficult to predict. Our mills here have been, and are and will likely continue to run their full capacity, and are using more wool than ever. They have started the new clip at 20 cents cash, against 18 cents last year for good unwashed wool, (unmerchandise wool at the usual reduction) and may go a cent or two higher before the end of the month.

It is to be deplored that the farmers in southern Indiana grow wool to such a limited extent, where there are millions of acres of thin and broken land, where grain growing, (considering the great expenditure of money for commercial fertilizers,) is carried on at an actual loss and at the same time the land is still more impoverished. While in the northern part of this state as well as in Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio, where the land is much richer and selling at much higher prices, wool growing is carried on very extensively. We admit that sheep require considerable attention, especially during lambing time, but nothing is so profitable if properly managed and nothing will bring out the impoverished soil as much as sheep grazing.

Mortality Statistics.

Death from violent causes in Indiana, including homicides, street car accidents, drownings, actions of mob, burns, scalds, freezing and the like, numbered 2,430 cases during the year 1903. From pneumonia 2,195 deaths resulted and from tuberculosis 4,063 deaths were reported, a decrease from the 4,207 reported in 1902.

In Indiana during the year 1903 33,892 people died from all causes. This number made the death rate 13.4 to the thousand, or 4 less than in 1902, when it was 13.8, with 35,005 deaths.

In typhoid fever a decrease of 16.7 percent from the figures of 1902 was made by the report of deaths from 1,013 cases. Dysentery caused 1,449 deaths and cancer 217, while smallpox was cause of death in only 195 cases.

UNDERTAKER SUMMONED.

But the Aged Veteran Came Back to Life.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 13.—Late last night an undertaker appeared at the door of Tyson Sherrill's home, in Salt Creek township, with his equipment ready to arrange for a burial and was informed that Mr. Sherrill was still alive and his final service would not yet be required. Mr. Sherrill, a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, had been critically sick for several weeks at his home, and in the forenoon began sinking. Soon after dark he apparently stopped breathing, and the friends gathered around his bedside believed him dead. Noah Sherrill, his son, who lives in this city, received a telephone message that his father was dead, and he secured an undertaker. Together they drove to the Sherrill home, and on their arrival were informed that Mr. Sherrill was still alive.

After his supposed demise Mr. Sherrill lay in a catatonic state, with all indications of death, for more than an hour, when those at the bedside noticed a slight movement of the body and soon realized that he was breathing. In a few minutes he opened his eyes, and, seeing the weeping friends, remarked: "I will bid you goodbye tomorrow."

With this he closed his eyes and apparently sank into a restful sleep. He is yet alive.

$200,000 Libel Suit.

Dr. R. V. Pierce's company, The World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., has brought a suit for libel against the publishers of The Ladies Home Journal, of Philadelphia, for $200,000 damages. It appears from the sworn statement that The Ladies Home Journal in a recent number published an attack on patent medicines. This article charged that the well known remedy, called "Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," contained seventeen per cent. of alcohol, also certain drugs, and that these ingredients made the medicine harmful and dangerous. The sworn complaint shows that the above statement is wholly and absolutely false in every particular, and that the medicine contains no deleterious ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients stated in the article so published, being made of certain extracts of medicinal plants and roots—harmless to the most delicate constitution.

When called upon, Dr. V. Mott Pierce, an officer of the company said: "In a recent article, The Ladies Home Journal made this wholly unfounded attack upon our remedy. The charges made against our medicine are absolutely false. We find it hard to understand how a reputable magazine of the high standing and enormous circulation of the Ladies Home Journal should make a damaging statement without taking pains to ascertain the facts. The remedy, 'Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription' is so well and favorably known, and has such a wide sale, that we could not afford to allow such a charge to pass unanswered. The fact is the 'Favorite Prescription' is composed of extracts of medicinal plants, roots and herbs, which would not harm the most delicate system. It is a false and unfounded attack upon the good name and repute of our company."

Mr. Carlton sent the invitation some time ago through United States Minister Powell Clayton.

JAIL SYSTEM CRITICIZED.

Board of State Charities Makes Several Recommendations.

The board of state charities in its annual report to the governor, made public Friday, severely criticizes the jail system in Indiana. The board sees much room for improvement and so do others who have made observations. It is well that the board has so reported and improvements should follow.

"The jail system we have is a relic of olden times," says the report. "It is not creditable to the state. The result of its operations is injurious. Our jails as they are conducted do more harm than good. In a rational prison system the jails should simply be places of detention. Convicted prisoners should be confined elsewhere."

The report has much to say of the care of epileptics in jails and along the same line recommends state care of such unfortunate, furnishing the statistics showing the development and growth of epilepsy in the state.

The recommendations of the board to the legislature include one for the establishment of an institution for the care of epileptics after describing the manner of their maintenance at present in the county jails and asylums of the state.

The board also took an interest in the efforts being made to check consumption in the state and recommended that the state act with the medical men who are now seeking means of preventing and diminishing the disease.

"We recommend that the desertion of wife and children be made a felony in this state," was reported.

The board also recommended that the state prison be governed by a non-partisan board in line with this course now used in all the other state institutions.

FIFTH DISTRICT REPUBLICANS

Will Meet in Convention at Terre Haute Monday.

Indianapolis, May 14.—The next Republican convention of general interest in this state will be held Monday at Terre Haute, when the Fifth district will meet to nominate a successor to Congressman Elias Holliday of Brazil. Otis E. Guller of Danville has been making a very vigorous campaign and has built up an organization that may prove very formidable. The young men of the district, it is said, have been rallying to his support. Holliday is the only old soldier member of the Indiana delegation and that element is strenuous in his behalf. There have been frequent rumors that Senator Barkus of Terre Haute will make another effort to land the nomination, but he has made no public announcement to that effect. It is the prospect of his entrance, however, that is creating the general interest in the contest.

The Hon. Thomas Taggart has returned to Francis Lick. His famous smile was broader than ever when he departed. He is so pleased over his big victory in the state convention that he could not keep from showing it. He declared that, in his opinion, the endorsement of Indiana means that Judge Parker will certainly capture the Democratic nomination for president. Indiana, he said, is a pivotal state, and, having followed the suit of New York, he is confident that it practically clinches matters for Judge Parker. Taggart's joy in this matter is two-fold, for it is generally believed that he expects to become chairman of the national committee, providing his man is successful at the St. Louis convention. Taggart's pockets were bulging with telegrams of congratulation, a number of which came from men in New York who stand very close to David B. Hill and Judge Parker.

The Hearst headquarters at the Claypool hotel will probably be closed at once. J. Oscar Henderson, who has been in charge, is now closing up affairs. While it is not disputed that many of Hearst's loyal followers are disgruntled at the result of the state convention, Mr. Henderson says that he takes no stock in the reports that they will bolt if Judge Parker is nominated. Most of them are showing a disposition already to abide by the will of the majority, but close observers believe that the majority of the Hearst men are very hopeful that, if he does not receive the nomination, it will go to a third candidate. Already there seems to be a growing sentiment in favor of McClellan of New York, and it is possible that Hearst's followers under the circumstances would support him more loyally than they would Parker.

The political atmosphere of Indiana is now resuming its normal temperature. It has been greatly disturbed during the last six months by the fight for places on the Republican state ticket and the contest for control of the Indiana delegation to the Democratic convention at St. Louis. The next big convention here will be in June, when the Prohibitionists will nominate their national ticket. It is likely that Indiana will present the name of Felix T. McWhirter of Indianapolis for vice president. Although the party leaders never have hopes of carrying Indiana, yet this is recognized as one of the strong prohibition states. Elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the visitors, and it is expected there will be a crowd of ten thousand.

Barrett Law Remonstrance.

The appellate court was held in a suit over a payment in Bluffton, that under the act of 1901 giving two-thirds of the resident property owners on a street the power by remonstrance to prevent its improvement by paving, the city council must state in its resolution calling for bids what kind of pavement is to be laid. A contract where the resolution called for bids on asphalt, brick and macadam pavements and the council undertook to decide after the bids were received what kind of pavement should be laid was held to be void, so that the contractor could be enjoined from proceeding under it.

Teachers Buneed.

Many school teachers over Indiana, according to reports published, have been buneed by an organizer who pretends to establish a local chapter of Pestalozzi, a teacher's protective association or union. The applications for membership turn up in the books as notes duly signed for $7.50 and the teachers are compelled to pay them.

If this report is true the prediction of some of the cleverest educators in the state is proving correct. Some of them doubted the wisdom of a secret organization among public school teachers from the start.

New Suits Helped.

Six Months Ago

Only a few people in Jackson county knew what Eye Strain was, and what benefits could be derived from the use of special ground lenses in such cases. A gentleman prominent in railroad circles speaking of the lenses, filed for his wife, said: "They are the best tonic she ever had, and she has not had a headache since she put the lenses on." Now this was a typical case of Eye Strain, overlooked perhaps by her physician. Of course there are numerous kinds of headaches, and one of these is caused by Eye Strain. Stop the Eye Strain with lenses and nature does the rest. If you are troubled in this way, if you are obliged to hold your near work away farther than usual, let us make an examination for you FREE OF ANY CHARGE, then you will know the true condition which exists. 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. HOW A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh-- Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.

MISS HELEN WHITMAN.

Miss Helen Whitman, 308 1/2 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"There is nothing like Peruna for that tired feeling, which gives you no ambition for work or play. After a prolonged illness, about a year ago I felt unable to regain my health, but four bottles of Peruna made a wonderful change and restored me to perfect health. As long as you keep your blood in good condition you are all right, and Peruna seems to fill the veins with pure, healthful blood. I thoroughly endorse it."

MISS HELEN WHITMAN.

do exactly as did Mattie B. Curtis, Secretary of Legion of Loyal Women, Hotel Salem, Boston, Mass. She said in a recent letter: "I suffered for over a year with general weakness and debility manifested in severe headache and backache. I took four bottles of Peruna, and for two months have been entirely free from these maladies."

Nervous Prostration.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has been used to rescue people from the perdition of degraded nerves, and put them on the good, solid foundation of health. The County Auditor of Erie county, New York, Hon. John W. Neff, in a recent letter written at Buffalo, New York, stated: "I was persuaded by a friend to try a bottle of your great nerve tonic, Peruna, and the results were so gratifying that I am more than pleased to recommend it."

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Lulu Larmer, Stoughton, Wis., says:

"For two years I suffered with nervous trouble and stomach disorders until I seemed that there was nothing to me but a bundle of nerves. I was very irritable, could not sleep, rest or compose myself, and was certainly unfit to take care of a household. I took nerve tonics and pills without benefit. When I began taking Peruna I grew steadily better, my nerves grew stronger, my rest was no longer fitful, and to-day I consider myself in perfect health and strength. My recovery was slow but sure, but I persevered and was rewarded by perfect health."—Mrs. Lulu Larmer.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Houston, Texas, May 14, 1904.
I was barren during the six years of married life, suffering with painful menstruation and a dozen other aches and pains.
I was a poor excuse for a wife as I was not able to be up more than about half the time and daily grew weaker and weaker.
Wine of Cardui changed me into a different woman in five short months, made me robust and strong.
I am very grateful to you for my good health and am today blessed with a baby who is the pride of our home and this is all due to your medicine.

HEAL THE SICK.

WAU-KE-MAUGH,

(DAVID SCOTT, M. D.)

CURES WITHOUT DRUGS

The Doctor has had the most wonderful success healing the sick with the Roots, Barks, Leaves, Plants, Seeds, Gums, Berries and Flowers, which he learned while living with the Indians and which he has fully demonstrated after twenty-seven years of practical experience to be the only

TRUE SYSTEM OF HEALING

The people are getting so tired of being drugged to death by drug pois-ons and quack nostrums, such as arsenic, strychnine, mercury, potash, etc., and having their stomachs destroyed with the mineral acids, that they turn with a sigh of relief to the pure, wholesome, health-giving remedies which God in His great wisdom so bountifully provided in Nature's Great Laboratory and which heal without causing harmful results.

Bring a small bottle of water.

WITHOUT ASKING QUESTIONS

The Doctor will locate all your aches and pains and tell how you feel without asking questions. All chronic and long standing diseases which have failed to find relief elsewhere ARE THE CASES WE WANT.

A VALUABLE DITCH

Two Thousand Acres of Waste Land Will Be Reclaimed by It.

NO OPPOSITION NOW

Ten Years Ago When Ditch Was Projected Times Were Too Hard to Go Ahead.

Now Those Concerned in the Improvement Find It Not So Difficult.

Silver Lake, Ind., May 14.—Farmers
south of Silver Lake are showing great interest in the big ditch now being dredged through the channel of Silver creek, by which 2,000 acres of practically useless land will become available for farming purposes. The dredge floats in 7½ feet of water, and a day and a night force is working, dredging 150 feet a day. The ditch will be nearly eight miles in length, terminating near Laketon. It will have a spur running to Twin lakes, which will be lowered three feet. The ditch was started ten years ago, but times were so hard and the assessments were so high that the work was abandoned. There is now no opposition to the ditch along its proposed route, everybody conceding that it is a work much needed, and which will prove of great advantage.

MURDER AT UNIONTOWN

Colored Woman Shot Dead by a White Neighbor.

Evansville, Ind., May 14.—A family
row at Uniontown, Ky., last night resulted in the murder of Mrs. Etta Finney, colored, by J. E. Ellis, white.
The families lived adjoining, and there was trouble between the white and colored children. When Ellis returned home last night he found a battle raging between the children. Mrs. Finney bore a part, seeing which Ellis used his shotgun, killing her instantly.
Then he barricaded himself in his house, saying he would not submit to arrest, but he was captured by the town marshal and was removed to Morgantown for safe keeping. Ellis was in the grocery business, and bore a good reputation. The negroes at Uniontown are much disturbed by the murder.

He Fooled the Undertaker.

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—Funeral Director Pauley of this city was called eight miles into the country to take charge of the burial of Tyson Sherrill,
a well-known citizen, and upon arrival at the door of the family home he was informed that his services were not yet required. Two hours before he had been summoned by telephone. Sherrill had apparently died after bidding
the family farewell. The body was arranged near the bedside, mourning
over his departure, when Sherrill suddenly opened his eyes and startled the family by remarking: "I am not dead." Sherrill is seventy years old and was a soldier in the Mexican and civil wars.

Decrease in Death Rate.

Indianapolis, May 14.—The tabulation of the vital statistics for the year 1903, which has just been completed in the office of the state board of health, shows a decrease in the number of deaths that speaks well for the battle that has been waged in Indiana against disease. The figures show that the total number of deaths in the year was 33,892, a rate of 13.4 a thousand.
The average for the last four years was 35,005, a rate of 13.8. As compared with the average for the last four years, there was a decrease in the number of deaths of 1,113, and in the rate of .4.

Suspicion of Foul Play.

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—The Greene county board of commissioners has appointed William Huffman to fill out the unexpired term of his late father, Sheriff John C. Huffman, who recently committed suicide. While all the evidence points to self-destruction,
Dr. George B. Gray of Worthington, who held the autopsy, believes that Sheriff Huffman was murdered.

An Important Session.

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—The Woman's General Foreign Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church has closed its 21st annual session. It was one of the most important business meetings ever held by the organization. The place for holding the next annual meeting was not fully determined, but Allegheny City, Pa., will probably be selected.

Child Fell Into a Spring.

Peru, Ind., May 14.—While leaning over to drink out of a spring at the family home three miles west of Peru, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Long fell into the water and was drowned. She had been dead for several minutes when found by her mother.

Sorely Stricken Family.

Charlestown, Ind., May 14.—Four of the five children of Washington Smith of this township have been buried side by side in a country cemetery in the last three months, all dying of consumption. The oldest boy was ten years and the youngest six months.

Trouble Still Brewing.

Washington, May 14.—Notwithstanding reports by cable to the effect that Peru has consented to withdraw her troops from the territory in the acre section now in dispute between that country and Brazil, it is stated here that because that offer is coupled with the demand for the neutralization of the territory, the crisis has not yet been averted. Meanwhile the argument between the representatives of the two countries in Washington continues.

An Open Letter.

From the Capin, S. C., News:
Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effects. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor.

TESTIMONIAL.

MESSRS. WATSON & CO., Indianapolis, Ind., Agents. March 1, 1904.
Dear Sirs:—Replying to your query as to whether I am pleased with the F. P. lighting system which you installed for me fifteen months ago, I will say that it has never given me one minute's trouble nor one dollar's expense. It gives the best light I ever saw for interior use.
The actinic rays are of such a character as to make it very desirable when the perfectly natural colors of objects are to be distinguished without confusion.

As to cost of maintenance, I think my experience, based upon close observation, will warrant the statement that it is under $80 per annum, and our store is open every day in the year until 11 o'clock p. m., except on Sunday, one hour less. Under the same condition, and with the most approved facilities for the distribution of light, our bills for illuminating gas were about $200 per year, and for electric light (arcs) about $100 to $120 per annum, and at no time have we had more than one half the light we now have.

I am particularly pleased with the light, and the fact that it is so economical makes it the more desirable.

As you can readily figure, I paid for my apparatus and cost of light in about four or five months. Yours truly, R. I. EADS.

MAKING HIM LOOK PLEASANT.

Is an easy thing when we quote our prices on building lumber. A pleasant surprise always awaits the contractor and builder when he visits our yard after getting prices elsewhere and seeing the superior quality of high grade lumber, hard-wood trim, flooring, laths, shingles and that we are selling at bed-rock prices. Our lumber is of high quality, well seasoned and beyond competition, price considered.
